

Tourism Community Relationships

Tourism Social Science Series

P.L. Pearce

G.M. Moscardo

G.F. Ross

Jafar Jafari

About the Book

The study of tourism is, arguably, ready for a thorough theoretical yet empirical analysis of the relationship between tourism and host communities. Pearce, Moscardo and Ross deal with the impacts tourism is having on communities internationally, going beyond a mere review of such impacts to investigate the origins, development and manifestations of community attitudes. A theoretical perspective is developed on how communities come to understand tourism and react to it. In terms of its disciplinary approaches the book combines social-psychological, sociological, economic and media analyses and can properly be termed a study within the new specialism of tourism. A number of yet-to-be-published studies of tourism and communities are reported on, and some large scale existing works on tourism and community reaction are reviewed and revisited.

Format: Hardback

Pagination: 272

Price: £76.99 $139.99 €108.99

Publication Date: 8th Jan 1997

ISBN: 9780080423951